LADY DAY OF MARCH.

The 25th of March is an important date both in the secular and religious calendars. It is the first quarter day in the year and as such comes home to most of us who have before our eyes the fear of payment of rent or the rarer pleasure of receiving it. The pay days in England have been arbitrarily fixed on Lady day, Midsummer day, Michaelmas day and Christmas day. Why? Nobody has been able to explain, unless it be that, arriving as they do, near the end of each quarter, such important days are better as reminders of our duty to our landlord than any ordinary 30th or 31st of the month would be likely to be.

But it is, of course, as one of the great festivals dedicated to the Virgin (as its name, Lady day, or the old term, Our Lady's day, implies) that it has most importance, being the anniversary of the day when the angel Gabriel announced to the Virgin the mystery of the incarnation. Four other dates in the calendar share the honor of this title—namely, Feb. 2, or the Purification; July 2, or the Visitation, to commemorate the visit paid by the Virgin Mary to her cousin Elizabeth (instituted by Pope Urban VI in 1888); Sept. 8, or the Nativity, and Dec. 8, or the Conception.

But the 25th of March, or the Annunciation, is most regarded, as it is the anniversary, according to St. Augustine, of the great event to which it owes its origin, and the institution of this festival dates from very early times, since St. Athanasius makes mention of it in one of his sermons. An order of the Patriarch Nicephorus having given permission to break the fast of Lent in the Annunciation happened to fall on the Thursday or Friday of Holy week, a council convened at Toledo in 636 to preserve the complete observance of Lent and ordered the transference of the holiday to the week preceding Christmas. Some of the eastern churches still follow this decree, but the Syrians have fixed it on Dec. 1 and the Armenians on the 5th of January, while in the Latin church it has resumed its old place in the ecclesiastical calendar. In the western church, if it should fall in the Easter fortnight, its celebration is postponed until the second Monday following the festival.

Lady day of March has always been very highly observed in England. The synod of Worcester, 1240 A. D., by one of its canons forbade all secular work upon it, and this was afterward confirmed by various provincial and diocesan councils in all respects except agricultural labor.

In Rome, in the early part of the century, the day used to be celebrated with great pomp and splendor. We read that the windows were hung with crimson and yellow silk draperies and occupied by females in most gorgeous attire, while the churches were patrolled by the people's horse guards in their splendid full dress uniforms, all of whom wore in their caps a spray of myrtle as a sign of rejoicing. Before the service a procession appeared, preceded by another detachment of the guards mounted on black chargers, who rode forward to clear the way to the sound of trumpet and the beating of drums. This martial array was followed by a bareheaded priest on a white mule, bearing the host in a gold cup, at the sight of which everybody prostrated himself. The pope used formerly to ride on the white mule himself, and all the cardinals used to follow him in their magnificent robes of state, but as the cardinals were for the most part not very cautious horsemen they were generally fastened on lest they should tumble off.

It is not to be supposed that in this country the day would be without its tincture of superstition, so we find that it was considered a public misfortune if Lady day fell on Easter day, and the medieval custom runs:

When our Lady falls in our Lord's lap,
Then England beware of great mishap.

No less than 13 saints figure in the calendar on this day. Of these two were ladies—St. Delia and St. Ida; one Irishman, St. Columba, abbot of Iona; and two Englishmen, St. Alfwold, bishop of Sherborne, and St. William, the child martyr, of Norwich.

In The Calendar of the Anglican Church we find a statement showing how great in ancient times was the veneration for the Virgin in this country. Published in 1851, the book states that no fewer than 2,120 churches were named in her honor alone, besides 102 where she was associated with some other saint. On the authority of the same work, pictorially the Virgin is nearly always shown kneeling or seated at a table reading.

Of the great masters of all countries and ages whose genius has been lavished on this theme it will be sufficient to mention the brothers Van Eyck, Lochner of Cologne, Albert Durer, Andrea del Sarto, Vasari, Louis and Annibal Carracci, Guido, Charles de la Fosse, Lemmer and Marillou.

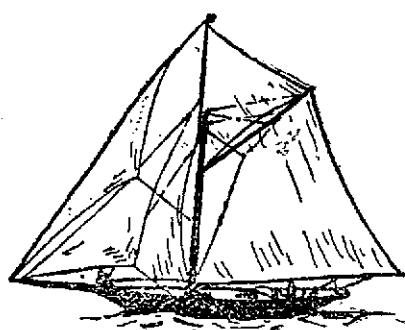

In connection with the day it is permissible, perhaps, to conclude with a "chestnut" that owes its origin to the postoffice. It is said that a few years ago a country gentleman wrote a letter to a lady of rank in town and sent it through the post with the following address: "To the 25th of March, Duke street, London." The postman is said to have delivered it at the house of Lady Day for whom it was intended.

FAIR SAILING

through life for the person who keeps in health. With a torpid liver and the impure blood that follows it, you are an easy prey to all sorts of ailments. That "used-up" feeling is the first warning that your liver isn't doing its work.

That is the time to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, to repel disease and build up the needed flesh and strength, there's nothing to equal it. It rouses every organ into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, braces up the whole system, and restores health and vigor.

CLEVELAND ON THE SITUATION.

When the announcement is made at Washington that President Cleveland has gone hunting or fishing it is taken as the forerunner of a message, if Congress is in session, or of a manifesto to the public if the lawmakers have gone home. Mr. Cleveland has just returned from a fishing trip, and he gives out that he refuses to believe that when the time arrives for deliberate action there will be engrafted upon the Democratic creed a demand for free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver. He is certain that the Democratic party is neither unpatriotic nor foolish, and it seems clear to him that such a course would inflict very great injury upon every interest of our country.

If Mr. Cleveland would look outside the golden circle in which he lives and moves, he surely would not consider it unpatriotic to restore silver to the position as a money metal accorded it by the founders of the Government. When the United States mint was established in 1791 and Congress authorized the coinage of money and regulated the value thereof, as the Constitution empowers it to do, the dollar of 412½ grains of silver of standard fineness was made the money unit of the United States. There is no doubt of this as the dollar bore the words: "One dollar or unit; one hundred cents," indelibly stamped on the coin. A subsequent Congress ordered the words quoted omitted and now Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Sherman and others tell us these silver dollars are fifty-cent dollars and that it is unpatriotic to open the mints for the unlimited coinage of such dollars. Originally Congress declared a silver coin of the United States containing 412½ grains of silver nine-tenths fine, to be of the value of 100 cents and a legal tender to any amount. Was that Congress, in which were many members who pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to sustain the independence of the United States, unpatriotic? If it was not, are those who to-day insist that the coinage act of 1791 shall be restored, unpatriotic? Is it unpatriotic, at the close of the nineteenth century, to coin our own money and regulate our own domestic affairs in accordance with the acts of those who toward the close of the last century fought for those privileges?

ARRESTED FOR LIBEL

Yesterday morning an article entitled "Boodle rampant" and signed by H. H. Beck, appeared in the JOURNAL. Last evening Mr. Beck and E. D. Kelley, one of the proprietors of the JOURNAL, were arrested for criminal libel and taken before Justice Linn, who released them upon their own recognizances. The complaint upon which these proceedings were had was subscribed and sworn to by F. H. Norcross, District Attorney, who alleges that the "Boodle rampant" article was false, defamatory, malicious, etc., etc.

Several articles relating to what is called the "Washoe boodlers" from the pen of H. H. Beck have been published in the JOURNAL. Some of the charges made by Mr. Beck seemed so improbable that his co-defendant in this libel case, the editor of the JOURNAL, was disposed to discredit them, as he could not believe that men sworn and paid to protect the interests of the taxpayers could be so forgetful of their oaths, so devoid of shame and so indifferent to public opinion as to be guilty of them, but an investigation of some of the charges by a Grand Jury proved that they were founded on facts. In every instance in which Mr. Beck has charged public officials with what might be termed crookedness, inquiry has substantiated the charge and the editor of the JOURNAL, after a full investigation, believes that Mr. Beck in exposing the official acts of the Commissioners and District Attorney had no motive except that of protecting the public interests, in his unpleasant task of telling the public what the officials are doing.

Criminal libel is as serious an offense as looting the public treasury. The newspaper which without cause maliciously libels a public official or a private citizen deserves severe punishment, but if publishing what purports to be the official acts of public officers in a communication signed by a responsible, respectable and reliable citizen is malicious, then rums can have full sway and plunder the public at will without fear of exposure or censure through the public press.

SPLIT ON THE MONEY QUESTION.

The National Republican convention at St. Louis defeated the Teller free coinage plank by a vote of 41 to 10 and adopted the resolution against free coinage published in yesterday's JOURNAL. This was the signal for the silver men to withdraw and they left the convention to the gold men.

The scenes were affecting. Men who had fought in the Republican ranks since and including Lincoln's time, and younger men who had battled for the principles of the party since they attained the age of manhood, left their seats in the convention and followed their patriotic and gallant General, Senator Henry M. Teller of Colorado, out of the hall and the party.

The gold men were unrelenting. Though informed upon the floor of the convention by delegates from California and other doubtful States that the adoption of the gold standard plank would not only defeat the party in the coming election, but would permanently disrupt it, they remained obdurate and relentless and defeated Teller's resolution by an overwhelming majority.

Now the Republican party has declared itself on the money question. Though it denounced Cleveland it ratified his financial policy and declared that his Administration is right on the paramount issue of the day, the issue that is agitating the country as no other question has since the firing on Fort Sumpter in 1861. There is no longer any doubt as to the position of the party on the money question. It is as Senator Jones knew it to be, and so declared, two years ago, "unalterably opposed to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, or at all."

What will silver Republicans do now? Will they, like the gallant Teller, declare their independence of party and vote only for a free coinage candidate? or will they go into the gold camp and admit that they were not sincere when they professed to be for silver? The issue is fairly made. Under which flag will they fight—silver and prosperity or gold and adversity?

Scenes and Incidents at the Convention.

THE GOLD MEN RAMPANT.

The Gold Plank Adopted and Silver Men Go Out—Adjourned Until To-day.

St. Louis, June 17.—At 10:25 the band struck up a medley of patriotic airs, which was received with cheers and applauded by the packed galleries. Belated leaders moved down into their places. Platt and Grosvenor Bushnell of Ohio came in together. The Tioga statesman jostled ex-Senator Warner Miller as he passed, but no sign of recognition passed between them. The feud between the New York leaders is bitter. Mark Hanna, who was among the last political generals to appear, was stopped at every step by delegates and greeted in the warmest fashion. There was, however, no open demonstration. He stepped upon the platform and held a whispered consultation with Senator Carter. As they stood conversing, temporary Chairman Fairbanks moved to the front of the platform and dropped the gavel on the second session of the convention.

CALLED TO ORDER.

Chairman Fairbanks, with the gavel and scores of ushers, worked hard before the convention could be brought to order. Then Dr. Wilbur Williams, pastor of the Union Methodist Episcopal church here, made a prayer, the audience standing. The acoustic properties of the hall are so bad that he could not be heard twenty feet away. The Chair then recognized Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, who said that the Committee on Resolutions would not be ready with a report until this afternoon.

Senator Sewell of New Jersey, and Senator Wellington of Maryland asked the unanimous consent to make reports for the Committees on Permanent Organization and Rules, but objections were heard. A motion of Wellington of Maryland that the convention take a recess until 2 o'clock was overwhelmingly defeated. The convention then seemed to be at a standstill. When Sewell of New Jersey moved that the report of the Committee on Permanent Organization now be received out of order, the galleries cheered, but the delegations cried "No! No!" However, Fairbanks declared the motion carried despite the protests of Wellington and Littlefield of Maine.

The report of the Committee on Permanent Organization was enthusiastically received, although the damp heat of the hall was almost prostrating. Mudd of Maryland jumped to his feet and loudly protested against action upon the report. "It can be received," he shouted, "but can't be acted upon. Nothing can be done until the convention has acted on the report of the Committee on Credentials. Until that committee has reported there is no convention." Chairman Fairbanks overruled the point of order and left Mudd angrily shouting on the floor.

As Fairbanks called for a vote on the adoption of the report, Mudd demanded a call of the roll. The demand was seconded by Delegate Evans of Minnesota. Fairbanks, however, called for a rising vote, and the convention seemed to rise en-masse to the call. The galleries cheered, and pandemonium reigned for a minutes as the convention realized the overwhelming defeat of the few dissenters against the immediate adoption of the report.

Sewell of New Jersey and Congressman Serrano Payne of New York were designated to escort the permanent Chairman to the platform.

They marched down the main aisle, while the delegates jumped to their feet, fluttering flags and handkerchiefs and cheering shrilly, with a yell that reminded the Southerners of the Confederacy. Fairbanks, with a plume of the national tri-color pinned to the breast of his black frock coat, stepped to the front, meeting the trio, who grasped the Nebraskaian by the hand. Thurston faced the arena with his hands clasped behind him and began to speak.

CHAIRMAN THURSTON'S SPEECH.

"Gentlemen of the Convention:—The happy memory of your kindness and confidence will abide in my grateful memory forever. My sole ambition is to meet your expectations, and I pledge myself to exercise the important powers of this high office with absolute impartiality. I beseech your cordial co-operation and support to the end that our proceedings may be orderly and dignified as befits the celebration of the supreme council of the Republican party."

"Eight years ago I had the distinguished honor to preside over the convention which nominated the last Republican President of the United States. To-day I have the further distinguished honor to preside over the convention which is to nominate the next President of the United States. This generation has had its object lesson, and the doom of the Democracy is already pronounced. The American people will return the Republican party to power, because they know that its administration will mean the supremacy of the Constitution of the United States; the maintenance of law; protection to every American citizen in his right to live, labor and vote; a vigorous policy; the enforcement of the Monroe Doctrine; the restoration of our merchant marine, and safety under the Stars and Stripes on every sea and in every port."

"It will mean a revenue adequate for all Government expenditures and a gradual extinguishment of the national debt; a currency as sound as the Government, and as untarnished as its honor; whose dollars, whether gold, or silver or paper, shall have equal purchasing and debt paying power, and will be the best dollars of the civilized world; a protective tariff which protects; coupled with a reciprocity which reciprocates by securing the best markets for our products and opening American factories to the free coinage of American muscle."

"It will mean a pension policy, just and generous to our living heroes, and to the widows and orphans of our dead comrades; Governmental supervision and control of transportation lines and rates; protection of the people from all unlawful combinations, and the unjust action of aggregated capital and corporate power; an American welcome to every God-fearing, liberty-loving, Constitution-respecting, law-abiding, labor-seeking, decent man."

"It will mean the exclusion of all whose birth, whose blood, whose condition, whose teachings and whose practices would menace the permanency of the free institutions and endanger the safety of the American people or lessen the opportunities of American labor;

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before prompt efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts, rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

CHARGED WITH CRIMINAL LIBEL.

E. D. KELLEY OF THE "JOURNAL" AND H. H. BECK ARRESTED.
Released on Their Own Recognizance.

District Attorney Norcross the Complainant—The Defendants Released on Their Own Recognizance.

Considerable stir was created yesterday afternoon by the arrest of E. D. Kelley of the JOURNAL, and H. H. Beck, on a charge of criminal libel, District Attorney Norcross being the complainant in the case.

The occasion of the complaint was an article entitled "Boodle Rampant," published in yesterday morning's JOURNAL over the signature of H. H. Beck. Constable McInnis served the warrants and both defendants appeared before Justice Linn, and after hearing the complaints read, they were released on their own recognizance and ordered to appear for examination Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

The following is the complaint against Mr. Kelley. The complaint against Mr. Beck is about the same, except charging him with writing the article and causing it to be published:

In the Justice Court of Reno Township in and for the County of Washoe, State of Nevada. The State of Nevada, plaintiff, vs. E. D. Kelley, defendant. Criminal complaint.

Personally appeared before me, this 17th day of June, A. D. 1896, F. H. Norcross, of Reno, Washoe county, Nevada, who first being duly sworn, complains, and says that one, E. D. Kelley, of Reno, Washoe county, Nevada, on or about the 17th day of June, A. D. 1896, at Reno, Washoe county, Nevada, committed the crime of libel as follows to-wit:

That at the said time and place, aforesaid, and ever since the 7th day of January, A. D. 1895, has been the duly elected, qualified and acting District Attorney of Washoe county, Nevada, and that during all of the times aforesaid the said E. D. Kelley was one of the proprietors and publishers of the NEVADA STATE JOURNAL, a daily newspaper of general circulation in Reno, Washoe county, Nevada, and that at the said time and place aforesaid, to-wit, at Reno, Washoe county, Nevada, on or about the 17th day of June, A. D. 1896, the said E. D. Kelley, maliciously and falsely, and intending thereby to impeach the honesty, integrity and reputation of aforesaid and to thereby expose aforesaid to public hatred, contempt and ridicule, printed and published in the said NEVADA STATE JOURNAL aforesaid, of and concerning aforesaid a malicious defamation tending to impeach the honesty, integrity and reputation of aforesaid to public hatred, contempt and ridicule, and reading as follows, to-wit:

[Here follows the communication as published in yesterday morning's JOURNAL over the signature of H. H. Beck.]

A Voice from the Cells.
IN JAIL, June 17, 1896.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Since writing you some time ago I find by rumors on the street that several changes have taken place in our community. For instance I am credibly informed that the steerer of that greatest of law firms has succeeded in hatching two more law suits, presumably for revenue only. Indeed, it appears that old Beck is under arrest for writing of the boodle methods of the Washoe county ring and that the editor of the JOURNAL is co-defendant, or words to that effect. Well, here is a magnificent opportunity for the ring to engage "additional counsel," and if they can't make counsel fees out of the aforesaid "Old Beck," then and in that case Boss Tweed and the gang could allow pay out of the County Treasury of Washoe county.

Another matter of news floating around the street corners is that the Reno Evening Gazette has discovered that the aforesaid O. B. was not known of until the county seat fight twenty-five years ago, and that he has been a "kicker" ever since etc., etc. That's right, Scree-Dee-Dee, stand in, if over the ring needed an anchor thrown to windward it is just about now; because if you can save the Boodlers for the next sixty days, no doubt your share of the swag will be increased—yee verily.

H. H. BECK.

GRAND LODGE OF I. O. O. F.
It Completes Its Business And Adjourns.

The second day's session of the annual communication of the Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. was largely attended. The proceedings were of great interest to the order, as several important questions were acted upon.

The secret work of the order was exemplified in closed session by Grand Representative Mack. At the conclusion of the general business the following elective and appointive officers were installed by the retiring Grand Master:

Andrew Maute of Belmont, Grand Master; D. G. Kitzmeyer of Carson, Deputy Grand Master; William Easton of Austin, Grand Warden; L. Gunggubheim of Virginia City, Grand Secretary; J. J. Becker of Reno, Grand Treasurer; A. B. Stoddard of Virginia, Grand Chaplain; Jacob Klein of Carson, Grand Marshal; J. D. Campbell of Pioche, Grand Conductor; L. A. Lamare of Battle Mountain, Grand Guardian; G. O. McNeess of Reno, Grand Herald. Grand Trustees are, George Russell of Elko, William Pennington of Virginia City, and L. A. Lamare of Battle Mountain.

The entertainment given the members of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows by the members of the Rebekah Degree on Tuesday night received the highest of praise from the visitors. They say that too much praise cannot be given for the excellence of the work as exemplified by Captain R. C. Leeper and the working team, and that they are ready to work with any team in the Grand Jurisdiction.

The joint teams of Truckee Lodge No. 14 and Reno No. 19 gave an excellent rendition of the work in the several degrees last evening. Captain S. Jacobs, as master of ceremonies, deserves especial mention for his management. The work was well worth witnessing.

THE GOVERNOR'S SALARY.
The Supreme Court Decides That Governor Sadler Is Entitled to the Full Amount.

Upon the death of the late Governor Jones, Lieutenant Governor Sadler, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution, succeeded to the office and assumed all of its duties and prerogatives. A question arose as to the salary to which the Governor was entitled. Governor Jones died April 10th. The salary of the office is $4,000 per annum, and on May 1st his widow received $111 11, or one-third of the salary for April. Governor Sadler brought a friendly suit for $222 22, the balance of the Governor's salary for April, the object being to determine his right to the full salary of Governor, as he received only $8 per day while Acting Governor. The Supreme Court holds that as the powers and duties of Governor have devolved upon Governor Sadler he is therefore entitled to the full amount of the salary, which is certainly a logical and, as the Court decides, a legal conclusion.

School Exercises.
The exercises at Mrs. Logan's South Side School yesterday were largely attended by the parents and friends of the little ones. The program as published in yesterday morning's JOURNAL was carried out in every detail and the little ones received great praise. Mrs. Logan was the recipient of many kind words from the parents on the progress the children had made during the term, and they showed their hearty appreciation of her good work by the interest manifested.

AT THE KINDERGARTEN.
Every seat was filled at the Kindergarten exercises yesterday afternoon, and the was tots assisted by their teacher, Miss Nichols, and her assistants, Miss Stanley and Miss Jameson, kept the large audience interested and in good humor for two or three hours. The little people seemed to enjoy the novelty as much as their elders and entered into every exercise with a vim that was surprising. The work of this branch of the public school system was fully demonstrated yesterday by Miss Nichols, and the visitors came away fully convinced that the Kindergarten is an important addition to the schools for Reno.

Marriage Bells.
A quiet wedding took place at Carson yesterday at high noon, the contracting parties being Mr. Alex Twaddle of Franktown and Miss Lizzie Ridler of Carson. Rev. Mr. Davis officiated. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the parties were present.

Mr. Twaddle is a native son of the Silver State and a prosperous farmer of Washoe county, where he is known as a sterling young man. His many friends will be pleased to hear of his new venture and will doubtless shower him with the best of wishes.

The bride is a native daughter of the State and a resident of Carson since childhood. It speaks volumes in her favor that Mr. Twaddle saw in her what he believed would make him a faithful and affectionate life partner.

The JOURNAL extends its congratulations to the young couple and hopes that their married life may be a long and happy one.

REPUBLICANS IN COUNCIL.

the abolition of sectionalism so that every star in the American flag will be shining for the welfare and happiness of every commonwealth, and of all the people; deathless loyalty to all that is truly American and patriotism as eternal as the stars.

The punctuation of almost every sentence of his address, was a period of yells, rounded off with a fringe of manual applause and stamping. Thurston is a tall, slender, dark-faced, black-moustached, spectacled, scholarly looking man. His voice, keyed to the stump, sent every word ringing to the further corner of the galleries. No point of the speech was lost upon the assembly, but that which provoked the most enthusiastic uproar was the statement that he presided over the convention which nominated the last Republican President, and was now addressing that to name the next Republican President. The delegates arose and waved their hands, flags and handkerchiefs, with prolonged cheers when Thurston finished.

As the demonstration ceased, by the direction of permanent Chairman, Thurston, a letter was read from J. Henry Fort, Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, announcing that the committee would be unable to report until the afternoon. Thereupon Governor Bushnell of Ohio moved that the convention take a recess until 2 o'clock. The motion was carried with a roar, and at 11:23 Chairman Thurston declared the convention in recess. The band played "Yankee Doodle" as the crowd found its way out of the hall.

SILVER SENATORS GO OUT.
Teller, Dubois, Cannon and other free silverites have in the Committee on Resolutions announced their determination to bolt the Republican Convention in case of the adoption of a gold standard plank. Teller's silver amendment to the platform was defeated by a vote of 41 to 10. The silver Senators declare themselves out of the party.

The scene at the meeting of the Committee on Resolutions was most affecting between the gold men and silverites. The latter said that they must sever their connection with the old party. Cannon of Utah pictured the despair of his constituents at leaving the party. Cannon wept as he pleaded for the interests of Utah, which demanded adherence to silver. Teller was cool, but decisive as he announced that he would leave the party. Dubois, the Senator from Idaho, showed no emotion, but was firmly defiant.

He scored the Republicans for inconsistency in criticizing the Cleveland Administration and then adopting the cardinal gold principle of the Cleveland Administration.

Dubois, Teller, Cannon, White of South Carolina and Lemmon of California say that they will bolt the convention as soon as the gold plank is adopted and take a number of their delegates with them.

The gold plank was adopted by a vote of 40 to 11.

At 3:30 the committee adopted the platform as a whole and decided to report it to the convention. The silver members retired for a conference and the platform was adopted unanimously by a viva voce vote.

The convention assembled, and at 2:40 Chairman Thurston rapped for order. A delay ensued while waiting for the committee reports. The spectators created some disturbance, being impatient at the delay. The Committee on Credentials reported, sustaining the claims of opposing delegates, thus seating Spear and Kowalsky, Denison and Hookheimer, and unseating Sam Shortridge and Montague of California.

The report of the Credentials Committee was adopted on a majority vote, after a roll call of the convention.

At 5:30 Governor moved that the convention adjourn until to-morrow. Carried.

their appetite for human flesh illustrated by Scenes That Father Allaire Has Witnessed—A Life That Is Constantly Meets With Dangers.

Father Allaire, missionary apostle to the French Congo, was recently in France to order a small iron steamboat to be used in visiting the mission stations and was persuaded while there to contribute to Le Correspondant an account of his work and its field. The courageous fathers of the French Catholic missions in Africa visit regions hitherto scarcely known to white men, and living habitually far beyond the bounds of the new African civilization, have peculiar opportunities of studying unmodified savage life. Father Allaire has been for ten years in the French Congo, and for the last six years at Liranga.

His home station of Liranga is surrounded by cannibal tribes, and not only has he time and again declined hospitable invitations to take part in a cannibal feast, but more than once he has discarded among his neighbors a hanker after his own flesh.

"You are wrong," said a cannibal when the father turned in disgust from an offer of human flesh. "You should taste it, and after that you'd never turn away; it is so good."

A cannibal, bearing aloft a bloody human head, said to the father:

"That is the head of one you knew well. We ate him three days ago. He was delicious. You should have come earlier so as to have a taste."

Cannibalism is a veritable passion with some of the father's black neighbors. Rescued slaves tell him, and he believes it, that there are in the interior chiefs who eat no flesh save that of girls and boys from 10 to 16 years of age.
He made a journey up the Congo to the land of the fierce Bondjos, strangers to him, with the hope of buying children out of slavery and taking them back to the mission station. When he reached Ngombou, an agglomeration of six or seven large cannibal villages, he was constantly saluted with the words:

"Sell us children. We will buy, but not sell them."

The cannibals had evidently heard of his mission, and the journey was in vain. When he was about to return, a chief invited him to anchor opposite a village, saying:

"Show your goods there, and my people will fetch down the slave children to sell."

The father accepted the invitation, climbed with difficulty the steep embankment, more than 30 feet high, upon which stood the fortified village, and entered the place with an interpreter and a few followers. Sixty savages surrounded the priest, and he and the chief went through the famous form of blood brotherhood, each making a slight wound in his arm and permitting the cutting streams of blood to mingle.
The father then discovered that there were no women or children in sight, and that the points of spears were trembling behind the houses. The chief suddenly demanded gifts for himself and all his men.

There was silence in the village, while the blacks bubbled ceaselessly in the can, and the lances peeped out here and there from behind the huts. The father answered that he would be glad to pay handsomely for any slaves that should be brought to the boat. At this the chief seized his left hand and bade him begone. When the father was ready to make the steep descent of the bank, he saw a stealthy giant just ready to lance one of the men from the steamboat. His left hand still grasped by the chief, the father aimed his uncharged rifle at the negro below, and the latter, dropping his weapon, drew back.

The next instant the chief had pushed the father over the bank. He lay stumbled for a second, but rose unhurt to find the savage lancers attacking his own men, and the latter casting themselves into the river for safety. Quickly loading his rifle, he turned upon the attacking party, but at sight of the loaded weapon the negroes fled. Once on the boat the father found that none of his men was wounded. One, the black interpreter, was missing, and he was soon discovered making ready to storm the village. He declared that with two rifles the missionary party could sack the place, and was disgusted when the father refused to undertake the task.

"It is curious," said the interpreter,
"that when these people were making ready to eat you you are unwilling to be revenged on them."

He then explained that as the missionary party clambered up to the town the negroes were vowing to have the goods as presents or by force, and that when the cannibal chief took the priest's hand the savage said significantly to his men:

"It is well; he has no skin and his hand is fat."

Father Allaire says that slavery in his part of Africa is not a thing of constant blows. Its worst feature is the possibility of human sacrifice at the death of a slave owner. The slave at ordinary times may go and come as he will, subject only to the possibility of being resold or of being called to be sacrificed in order that a dead master may have slave company in another world.
Slavery is worse for children than for adults, and in parts of the French Congo children are used as money. A privilege is spoken of as worth so many slaves. Slave children pass through the hands of as many as 20 chiefs. A native law makes a thief caught in the act the slave of his captor, and it is not unusual for men to expose valuable things, and then lie in ambush to capture and thus enslave any one that yields to the temptation to steal the article exposed. Young children are seized and enslaved when found alone, and African mothers, who are most tender of their little ones, guard them with great care.

The Musical Cat.
My blue Persian cat is a gentle, sentimental creature, slightly inclined to melancholy and, strangely, even troublesome. She had been accustomed from the time I first had her—last summer—to be continually with me, generally on my lap or shoulder. When the winter evenings began to draw on, I took to playing the piano, which I had not done during the summer. The cat could not understand why, when this was going on, she was not allowed to take up her usual position. In order, I suppose, to show her disapproval of my occupation, she would continually climb up either on to me or the piano and pat my hands with her paws, and pull them off the keys—very gently and without scariing at all. This became such a nuisance that I could not play unless I put her out of the room, but she would sit outside and howl, and when any one opened the door she would rush in and begin da capo. At last I thought of a way of treating her—viz, like a rational being.
I placed a chair next to the music stool,
as though for a duet, and put her on it, and explained the matter to her, and from that time I have had no further trouble, unless I forget to put her chair for her when I begin to play.—London Spectator Correspondence.

For your Protection.—Catarrh "Ointment" is Tonic for Catarrh in liquid form to be taken internally, usually contains either mercury or iodine of Potassium, or both, which are injurious if too long taken. Catarrh is a local, not a blood disease, caused by sudden change to cold or damp weather. It starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat.
Cold in the head causes excessive flow of mucus, and, if repeatedly neglected, the results of catarrh will follow: severe pain in the head, a roaring sound in the ears, bad breath, and sometimes an offensive discharge. There is no remedy so quick to allay inflammation and heal the membrane. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles and contains no mercury nor any injurious drug. Price, 50 cents.

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE,
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., May 20, 1896.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT IN compliance with the provisions of an act of Congress of June 8, 1896, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Idaho," as extended to the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1896, Ely Schuchette, of Verdi, County of Washoe, State of Nevada, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement No. 55, for the purchase of the NW 1/4 of Section No. 14 in Township No. 21 North, Range No. 17 E., M.
D. M., and will offer for sale the above land which is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish his claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at San Francisco, California, on Thursday, the 30th day of July, 1896.

He names as witnesses: Anthony Gar-della, Peter Tomak and John Tetraut, of Verdi, Nevada, and George Nelson of Reno, Nevada.

AS and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 30th day of July, 1896.
